TOWN OF CLARKSVILLE

Community Invited to Second “Implementing South Clarksville” Workshop

CLARKSVILLE, IN – Some major changes are coming to Clarksville, and area residents are invited to join us in shaping the future of Southern Indiana. The public and area media organizations are invited to attend a community workshop to discuss future construction of specific public infrastructure improvements in the Transformation Area of the South Clarksville Redevelopment Plan on Thursday, April 20th at 6:30pm.

This is the second public workshop following the adoption of the South Clarksville Redevelopment Plan by the Town Council in March of 2016. The South Clarksville Redevelopment Plan identifies redevelopment opportunities for the Clarksville riverfront and adjacent lands. It includes recommendations for infrastructure and revitalization improvements throughout the study area and provides a strategy for implementing the plan’s community goals and objectives.

In August 2016, the Town of Clarksville hired a team of design and engineering consultants led by MKSK, the urban planning and design firm that developed the South Clarksville Redevelopment Plan, to begin conceptual design and engineering on five public improvement projects proposed within the community plan. The five public projects were reconstruction of Riverside Drive, reconstruction of Woerner Avenue, improved riverfront park, and floodwall relocation, as well as utility improvements in relation to the first four projects.

The design team presented new conceptual designs and renderings for the reconstruction of Riverside Drive, reconstruction of Woerner Avenue, improved riverfront park, and floodwall modifications at a December 13, 2016 public workshop. The design team will be returning on April 20th to present the revisions they have made in response to the public input gathered over the winter. The design team will be given authorization to begin schematic design on the reconstruction of Woerner Avenue, improved riverfront park, and floodwall modifications shortly after unveiling the revised conceptual designs at the upcoming public workshop.

The workshop will be held in Suite 201 of Water Tower Square Business Park, 590 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, IN 47130. The meeting will begin promptly at 6:30pm.
